

CRIME WAVE IN STATE IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

GOV. CHRISTIANSON NAMES STATEWIDE LARGE COMMITTEE

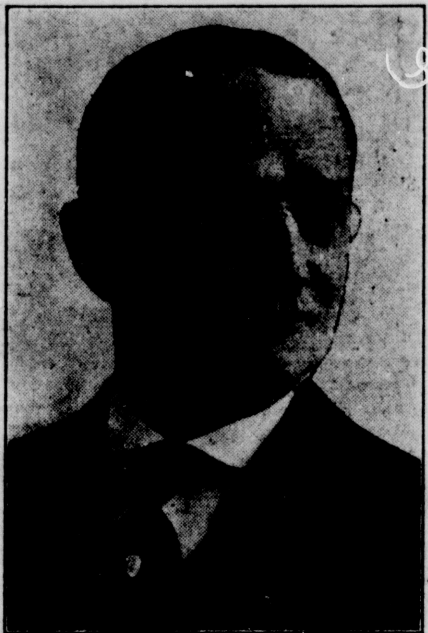

RECOMMENDATIONS TO BE MADE TO THE LEGISLATURE

THE DETECTION OF CRIMINALS, COURT PROCEDURE, IMPRISONMENT, PAROLE

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Investigation of the entire system of detection of criminals, court procedure, imprisonment and parole was ordered by Governor Theodore Christianson today.

He named a committee to make the investigation preliminary to making recommendations to the next legislature.

The investigation will be one of the most detailed ever instituted and

Judge W. S. McClenahan
Member of Commission

through it Governor Christianson hopes to bring about a new criminal code, or at least a reformation of crime.

"During the last decade a crime wave, increasing in volume and seriousness, has been sweeping the world," said the governor. "Our country, far from being free from this general revolt against law, has perhaps suffered more than any other from lawlessness."

"Minnesota, in common with other states, has a serious crime wave problem. This problem cannot be solved unless every aspect of it is given serious and thorough-going consideration by men of judgment, experience and judicial poise. In the solution of that problem it is necessary to sift the evidence, to separate the facts from conjecture, to learn the truth and then to follow that truth relentlessly."

The problem includes, among others, the following questions:

1. "Does our criminal law adequately define the crimes that are being committed?"
2. "Does it provide penalties that are adequate to deter men from committing crimes?"
3. "What changes, either in law or court rules, are needed to expedite the machinery of justice, to make justice quicker and more certain?"
4. "What changes can be made in our machinery of law enforcement, outside of the courts, that will insure a more general apprehension of criminals and closer surveillance of those with known criminal tendencies?"

5. "Should the system of indeterminate sentences be continued, or should imprisonment be for definite terms fixed by the courts?"
6. "If the indeterminate sentence system is to be continued, should the composition of the parole board be changed?"
7. "What changes in the rules and methods of procedure of the parole board could be made which would tend to remove possibilities of error?"

The governor made his statement a formal proclamation and charged his commission with the duty of "making a full and complete investigation along the lines suggested by the foregoing questions, returning full and impartial answers thereto, and making suggestions and recommendations for submission to the next general session of the legislature for the correction of any evils found to exist."

He named the following as members of the commission: Judge Oscar Hallam, St. Paul, chairman; Ernest Frazer, dean of the law school, University of Minnesota; Judge Andrew Holt, associate justice, state supreme court; Judge H. B. Dickinson, Minneapolis; Judge O. B. Lewis, St. Paul; Judge Bert Fessler, Duluth; Judge W. S. McClenahan, Brainerd; Judge Julius E. Haycraft, Fairmont; Judge J. F. D. Meighan, Albert Lea; Dr. C. A. CAROL TO LOVE HIS COUNTRY, SERVE SILENTLY

CROWN PRINCE OF RUMANIA IS SHORN OF THRONE RIGHTS

HE VOLUNTARILY RENOUNCED THEM FOR PERSONAL REASONS

(Copyright, 1926, by United Press) Milan, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, shorn of his throne rights by his own volition, will "continue to love my country and serve it in silence."

In an exclusive interview with the United Press—the only direct personal interview he has granted since his dramatic retirement from the Rumanian royal family—he has put at rest rumors that he intended to start a coup against the government of his fatherland. And coupled therewith was admission that he had voluntarily renounced his rights to the throne, "for reasons which concern me personally."

He indicated his grief at press associations hinting at a love affair with the attractive Magda Lupescu, who is stopping here and has been seen in his company. The Rumanian girl herself subsequently told the United Press that she was a "poor woman against whom the world is unjustly cruel" and begged the interviewer "not to insist" upon an answer to his query as to whether she intends to wed Carol.

Of Princess Helen, his wife, the prince declared he cherished "the highest regard," while of his son, the new Rumanian heir presumptive, Carol admitted that "he adored him."

"One thing I have deeply regretted is the allusion to a plot. There is absolutely no political reason behind my action. It is purely personal and it pains me to read gossip of preparation of a revolt against the monarchy."

Carol, who has been reported as perhaps conspiring to unseat both Premier Bratianu and King Ferdinand, drew himself up in a soldierly fashion.

"My devotion as a prince and my loyalty as a soldier make it unnecessary for me to even deny such an absurdity. I consider it indecorous to deny the anti-monarchistic attitude attributed to me. I remain a soldier and a loyal subject and will never raise obstacles for my country."

While members of his entourage previously had declared that the Carol renunciation letter to Bucharest was a forgery, the prince himself declared:

"My renunciation is a fact. It is absolutely true. I did it for reasons which concern me personally. My position as prince does not justify that the public compel me to relate the facts which are not political. Princes also have rights to their souls."

TO BE LAID TO REST WITHIN PANTHEON

Bordighera, Italy, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy will be laid to rest within the glorious walls of the Pantheon at Rome. King Victor Emmanuel decided today that his mother's body should be buried in the ancient temple which was built in the second century of the Christian era by the Emperor Hadrian.

CONFLICTING PLANS IN MILK PROBLEM, CHICAGO

JOINT COMMITTEE OF OFFICIALS, DISTRIBUTORS AND FARMERS IN SESSION

DR. BUNDSON, HEALTH COMMISSIONER, STANDS BY HIS GUNS

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Conflicting plans for solving the problem of "pure milk" for Chicago were before the joint committee of officials, distributors and farmers today.

The plans developed at the committee's first meeting. The sponsors were insistent they could not be reconciled. After the plans had been outlined, the committee adjourned to thresh out the problem later.

Dr. Herman N. Bundson, city health commissioner, stood by his original line of action, support of the city ordinance which provides an embargo on non-tuberculin tested milk beginning April 1.

Dr. Evans, former health commissioner, advocated less drastic action. Dr. Evans suggested that the city co-operate in a program extending over several years and calling for the eradication of tuberculosis from dairy herds in the northern Illinois district, which is the chief source of Chicago's milk supply. He was supported by the herd owners and other members of the commission.

Dr. Evans explained the details of his plan have not been worked out. He said they were being taken up step by step and carefully tested before adopted.

The contention of Dr. Bundson is that healthy cows in Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa can supply Chicago with pure milk without an increase in the price.

ST. PAUL CITY PRIMARY SOON REAL SCRAMBLE

LARRY HO IS A CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR AND THE CITY COUNCIL

NEARLY 80 CANDIDATES ARE IN THE FIELD FOR CITY OFFICES

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—(UP)—In the scramble for places in the city primary observers today saw an aroused interest on the part of the voters in things political.

Nearly 80 candidates are in the field for city offices and more than 3,000 petitions have been filed. The filing is expected to exceed the 10,000 mark. So far, interest in the city primary has exceeded all previous records.

Candidates have until February 23 to decide whether they want to go on the primary ballot March 16. The final city election is May 4.

Out of the scramble for places some city officials are in a dilemma. Commissioner Laurence C. Hodgson, former mayor, is filed as a candidate for the mayoralty nomination and also for re-nomination to the council. He must choose his path by February 23.

Meanwhile labor forces are confused. Leaders say they cannot put a candidate of their own in the field and they are looking for someone to endorse.

SAYS EDUCATION NOW STYLISHLY SCIENTIFIC KIND

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—(UP)—There is too much methodology and experimentalism in modern education, according to Dr. Franklin B. Snyder, English instructor of Northwestern University, Evanston.

At a dinner of the St. Paul Principals' club he declared education has become stylishly scientific.

"What we need is a return to plain old reading, writing and arithmetic," he said. "There is too much standardization and too many stupid half-baked scientific methods. We have lost sight of the fundamentals of education."

"We admit too many to the high schools and pass them on to college, excusing their shortcomings on some scientific theory. The problem is how to tell a freshman that he is too stupid to continue. I haven't the heart."

EARTHQUAKE SHAKES SECTION OF GERMANY

Cologne, Jan. 6.—(UP)—An earthquake shook the Rhine and Westphalia early today.

Panicky burghers of this Rhine city quit their homes, some in pajamas and some clothed and gathered in parks and squares, fearing new calamity in the wake of the recent floods.

The shake lasted only a few seconds, but was felt in many towns including Coblenz, Aachen (Aix la Chapelle), Dusseldorf, Elberfeld and near Dortmund.

Some reports say that it was so sharp that books were jarred out of book cases and houses trembled noticeably.

SORLIE SAYS NORTH DAKOTA IS MALIGNED

GOVERNOR OVER WCCO IN PLEA THAT PEOPLE KNOW AND UNDERSTAND STATE

TAKES EXCEPTION TO ERRONEOUS IDEAS ABOUT CLIMATE AND PEOPLE

Minneapolis, Jan. 6.—Governor A. G. Sorlie of North Dakota told the world last night his state has been too much maligned.

Speaking on the resources and advantages of North Dakota, he broadcast over the Gold Medal station, WCCO, a plea that the people know and understand the state.

"In the past people have gained erroneous ideas about North Dakota, its climate and its people," he said. "The idea has been spread that the state is in a deplorable condition. To many the name, North Dakota, suggests blizzards, bitter cold, vast sweeps of unoccupied prairie blest with a population which is a composite of primitive Indian and radical bolshevik, living on the verge of imminent bankruptcy."

"We of North Dakota are largely to blame that these misrepresentations have been permitted to exist. We have been and are too busy actually producing the things others state boast of that we have never taken the time to broadcast the true facts about our state. We have been workers, not boosters."

"North Dakota is 70,000 square miles in area and possesses more than 40,000,000 acres of tillable lands, of which 18,000,000 acres now are under cultivation. No other state can match our rich and productive soil. No other state can produce so great and valuable crops as we do, with as little effort. North Dakota produces all her crops with the season's rainfall, without irrigation, inoculation of soil, or a single ounce of fertilizer."

He told of the dairying, mining and manufacturing industries of the state, of her playgrounds and public institutions.

"Much has been said of disagreeable weather in North Dakota, but I would not trade its invigorating climate for the damp, chill and thick air of many metropolitan districts."

"The average temperature for a period of 25 years in the winter months of December, January and February has been 10.2 degrees; for March, April and May 41.3 degrees; for June, July and August 69.4 degrees and for September, October and November 44.6 degrees. Just why a snowstorm should be called a 'North Dakota blizzard' I do not know. Storms are the exception and not the rule, and wind storms are almost unknown."

TO PROTEST I. C. C. DECISION IN FARGO-WAHPETON CASE

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—Governor Theodore Christianson, O. P. B. Jacobson and representatives of a number of Minnesota commercial bodies, will go to Washington next week to protest the interstate commerce commission decision in the Fargo-Wahpeton cases.

These decisions raised freight rates on certain commodities shipped between the Twin Cities and other Minnesota towns. The delegation will leave St. Paul Sunday night. While in Washington they will confer with Minnesota congressmen and attend a joint meeting of the interstate commerce committee of the house and senate.

Wintry Weather Again Appears

MAY FIND HIS BROTHER AS A PROSECUTOR

ROBERT SCOTT TO FACE TRIAL IN CHICAGO FOR SLAYING OF DRUG CLERK

HIS OWN BROTHER, RUSSELL, MAY DENOUNCE HIM AS MURDERER

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(UP)—When Robert Scott faces trial here for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk, he may find his own brother, Russell T. Scott, denouncing him as a murderer.

For it is Russell who all along has characterized Robert as the man who fired the fatal shot into Maurer's body and then dropped out of sight while he (Russell) stood trial for the murder and went through the ordeal of three times being snatched from the gallows.

Robert Scott, for more than a year and a half a hunted man, was discovered in San Quentin penitentiary serving a sentence for a store robbery under the name of John Redding. He expressed his willingness to return here and will be returned to stand trial.

Friends of Russell see in Robert's arrest a chance to obtain freedom from the asylum but information obtained at the state's attorney's office here has this as doubtful. George E. Gorman, an assistant state's attorney, said no one but the governor could bring about Russell's release and added that the facts would never justify that.

Russell has contended all along that Robert killed Maurer in a fight in the drug store and that the killing was not committed during a holdup. After three 11th-hour escapes from the gallows, Russell finally was adjudged insane and was confined in an asylum at Chester, Ill.

The state's attorney's office was interested today in reports from the Pacific coast that Robert had confessed to a cell mate that it was he and not Russell that fired the fatal shot.

EVELYN NESBIT RECOVERING FROM POISON EFFECTS

PREPARES TO FACE 17 YEAR OLD SON AND EXPLAIN DEED

FORMER WIFE OF HARRY K. THAW BELIEVED OUT OF DANGER

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Rapidly recovering from the effects of the poison she swallowed, Evelyn Nesbit prepared today to face her 17-year-old son and explain her attempted suicide.

The former wife of Harry K. Thaw passed a satisfactory night and was believed to have passed out of the danger zone.

Nurses coming from her room said she smiled at them and once remarked:

"I was so blue yesterday morning but now life looks sweet and rosy." Miss Nesbit's son, whom she has named Russell Thaw, was partly responsible for saving his mother's life. Asleep in an adjoining room when his mother's maid found Miss Nesbit suffering from the poison and screamed for help, Russell quickly found a medical book, turned the pages rapidly for advice, and then poured olive oil and milk down his mother's throat. This, according to attending physicians, helped in the fight against the eight ounces of lysol she had swallowed.

Russell had come to Chicago to spend the holidays with his mother and was preparing to return to his school in the east. The near-tragedy has changed his plans, however, and he is now waiting until the physicians allow him to enter his mother's room at the hospital so that he can talk to her. He hopes to get a satisfactory explanation of his mother's attempted suicide.

This afternoon, Hoover will occupy the witness stand at the opening session of the investigation of high prices of crude rubber controlled by the British monopoly in the East Indies.

Hoover asked the house to order this investigation which is to be conducted by the house committee on foreign and interstate commerce. The house has granted this committee permission to hold meetings while the house is in session. Officials of the rubber industry and experts of Hoover's department will testify Thursday in the hearing which will also probe the alleged foreign monopolies of silk, silk, coffee and other foreign raw materials, extensively used in the United States.

PLOD VERBALLY OVER FAMILIAR DISPUTED GROUND

BOTH SIDES VIE IN REITERATING INFLEXIBILITY OF DEMANDS

TERSE AND UNILLUMINATING STATEMENT IS ISSUED

By PAUL W. WHITE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Jan. 6.—Plodding verbally over familiar disputed ground, representatives of miners and operators today seemed no nearer solution of the anthracite coal strike.

Vieing with each other in reiterating the inflexibility of their demands, the opposing groups prepared to resume negotiations in the forlorn hope that one side or the other would make some concession out of which peace could be fashioned.

Yesterday's five hours of conference had the following net result: Continued insistence by the miners on the checkoff.

When last evening, adjournment was taken until 11 A. M. today, the following terse and unilluminating statement was issued:

"The conference met this afternoon and continued consideration of the possibility of reaching an agreement. The discussion was along the lines of previous sessions."

DENY STORMS IN MATRIMONIAL PATH OF FOLLY STAR

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Reports that storms had arisen along the matrimonial path of Marilyn Miller, former star of Ziegfeld productions, and her husband, Jack Pickford, were denied today by Mrs. Caro Miller, the petite dancer's mother.

Mrs. Miller is confined to her apartment here with a slight attack of grippe but admitted newspaper reporters long enough to say "bunk" when told of the reports of an impending divorce.

"I only recently returned from New York, where I had a good visit with Marilyn," Mrs. Miller said. "She is happy in her work and only regrets that it is necessary for Jack to be in California. Reports of a probable divorce are the bunk."

Shelbyville, Ind., Jan. 6.—(UP)—A sorrowing family today prepared for the funeral of Mrs. Margaret House, who crawled into the furnace of her home here "as a living sacrifice to the lord."

House awakened by songs and prayer in the basement found his wife with the upper part of her body in the furnace. She was terribly burned and died a few hours later.

TEXTILE AND METAL INDUSTRY PROBE AUTHORIZED

Washington, Jan. 6.—(UP)—A resolution directing the tariff commission to investigate the production costs, capital investment and net income of the textile and metal industries, was introduced in the senate today by Sen. Frazier, North Dakota.

CARPENTER KILLED, FALLS FROM BRIDGE WORK

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 6.—(UP)—Arthur Beemish, carpenter on the Missouri river highway bridge being erected by the state here, was instantly killed today when he fell from a catwalk on the second span and dropped 50 feet to the ground. He is the second man to die in a similar manner, Ivan Chiburg of Eldora, Iowa, having fallen Sunday. He died Monday. Beemish came here from Omaha where he is understood to have relatives.

HEAVY GUARD RAILS TO PROTECT AUTO TRAFFIC

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—To protect heavy automobile traffic on trunk highway bridges within the city limits heavy guard rails are being placed. Commissioner MacDonald said the rails would reduce the danger of automobiles climbing the sidewalks and plunging from bridges.

Guard rails already have been placed on the Wabasha and Marshall Avenue bridges over the Mississippi. The Smith street high bridge will be protected at once and bids will be asked on the Sixth street viaduct soon.

GIRL CONFESSES 'BUMMING' AROUND MIDWEST COUNTRY

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 6.—(UP)—With a stocking cap pulled down over her bobbed curls and wearing worn overalls, and boy's brogans, Caroline Bunk, 18, of Manitowoc, Wis., is held by authorities here after a cross questioning in which her sex was discovered and she confessed that she had been "bumming" around the country with Frank Kelleher of Chicago, a carnival employee. They were picked up in the Rockford railroad yards as they were stealing a ride out of town on a freight train.

California Archery Expert Greatly Improves William Tell's Weapon By Addition of a Sight

Ed Iverson, well known Los Angeles archer, is shown above with a bow which he has equipped with a sight, thus making the ancient bow and arrow a much more accurate weapon. Iverson, a member of the Southland Archery Club, has experimented for years with the weapon that is always associated with William Tell's story.

NEW REVENUE BILL CHANGES

IF PASSED, WILL BENEFIT INCOME TAXPAYERS $2,000,000

"Individual income taxpayers in Minnesota will benefit to the extent of $2,000,000," stated Mr. Willcuts, Collector of Internal Revenue, "if the new revenue bill goes through in substantially its present form."

"In addition to this immense saving, between 35,000 and 45,000 people will undoubtedly be relieved from filing returns, due to increased personal exemption."

Heretofore taxpayers have been urged to file their returns early; this year Mr. Willcuts advises against this for the reason that no one will know definitely what the reductions in rates will be until the new bill is passed.

However, there is nothing to prevent a taxpayer at this time from closing his books and computing his net income. Such computation will not be affected by any provisions of the new law. The actual preparation of the return itself, after the computation of the income, requires in the majority of cases but a few minutes. It is suggested, therefore, that all figures and data be assembled pending the receipt of blanks by taxpayers.

If this is done, the filing of the returns could be safely deferred until the blanks are available and still leave time for transcribing the figures to the proper forms and filing returns on or before the due date.

SWISS CHEESE SECTION DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Antigo, Wis., Jan. 6.—(UP)—Judge A. N. Whiting in his decision today on the case of the state versus the Langlade County Creamery Co. regarding the manufacture of Swiss cheese declared Section 54607 of the state statutes was unconstitutional and dismissed the case. His decision was handed down here shortly before noon, and is very lengthy, having taken in a great deal of the testimony which was offered in the case during the three weeks' trial in municipal court. During the trial prominent Swiss cheese makers from all over the country were called to give expert testimony.

You don't have to be a French Chef to prepare a tempting Jell-O dessert. By carefully following the recipes in each package anyone can make plain or elaborate desserts and salads. Plain Jell-O dessert takes but a few minutes of your time to prepare and costs little to serve. But perhaps you like elaborate desserts—and again Jell-O, in combination with fruits, nuts and whipped cream makes a dessert suitable for any occasion. Keep several packages of Jell-O on hand; there are six pure fruit flavors.

WOMAN DEAN WHO ADOPTS CHILD OF UNWED MOTHER, HEIR TO $400,000 ESTATE

Miss Anita Hodgkin, Dean of the School for Christian Service at Berkeley, Calif., has adopted the 10-month-old illegitimate son of Miss Lorraine Beckwith, who died soon after the birth of the child at the age of 38. She left an estate of $400,000. The baby has been christened Norman Morrison Hodgkin. Harry F. Dolan and Charles E. Houghton, who allege they are custodians of the estate, are contesting the right of Miss Hodgkin to adopt the child. During the war Miss Hodgkin was decorated by both the Queen of Rumania and the Rumanian government. She is shown wearing these decorations.

WOMEN'S BLOC IN CONGRESS

TWO-THIRDS FAVORS LIBERALIZING THE VOLSTEAD ACT

Washington, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Two thirds of the "women's bloc" in the house have become associated with the movement to modify and liberalize the Volstead Act.

Shortly after the house convened, Mrs. Mary Norton, New Jersey democrat, joined the committee on modification of the Volstead act (unofficial), and Representative Hill, Maryland republican, announced today that Mrs. Florence Kahn, California republican, had also become a member.

"While I believe in law enforcement,"

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"IT MAKES NO DIFFERENCE WHAT A MAN BELIEVES IF HE IS HONEST"

Our ideals are the blue prints of our lives. If the blue print is mistaken, the life is mis-shapen.

Loeb and Leopold were doubtless honest in their beliefs but it made thousands of dollars difference to the public what they believed. It made years of shame and humiliation for their parents. It robbed an innocent boy of his life and broke his parents' hearts.

It made a lot of difference to the world what Nietzsche believed when those beliefs were translated into German militarism.

The sincerity of a man does not make a wrong thing right when he believes it.

The honesty of the believer does not mitigate the baseful effects of a false belief once that idea is put to work.

Before there is any action there must be some thinking. Right action springs from right thinking.

You cannot settle industrial disputes until you can convince the employer that his help has certain human rights that must be respected and convince the employee that there are certain moral demands in every dispute that cannot be ignored.

Right thinking on human relationships and personal responsibilities will solve all our labor troubles. It makes a lot of difference to the laborer what the boss believes and to the boss what the help believes.

The leaders of the French Revolution were doubtless honest but they nearly wrecked the French Nation. The leaders of the Confederacy were honest but if they had won there would have been no United States of America. What would that mean to the world today?

Honesty and sincerity do not recompense for stupidity and ignorance.

"ment," Mrs. Kahn wrote to Hill, "I am confident that the evils attendant upon the Volstead act as now enforced are far greater than any that could possibly follow its modification to the extent of permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer."

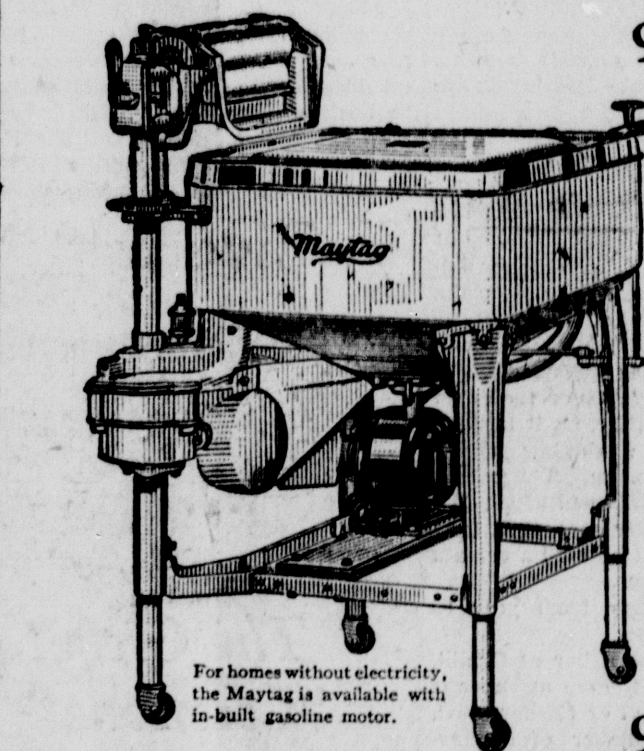

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Brainerd Woman Who Tells Her Experience

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Mrs. A. C. Hanson, 911 Kingwood St., says: "My back was sore and stiff. Stopping irritated my back and kidneys. I had a constant, dull ache through the small of my back that just laid me up. I had such dizzy spells I didn't know what I was doing. I used Doan's Pills and they rid me of the misery."

SENTIMENTAL MUSH

WHILE President Dilg of "Outdoor America" was sick abed, somebody wrote an editorial entitled "Slop" and gave it a prominent position in the issue of the January magazine. The writer inveighs against the sentimental spirit shown by some people when a hunter legitimately kills a bird or animal.

"Sentimental mush is the product of stupidity and gross egotism—a distinctly undesirable commodity, of which there is an overabundance," says the writer.

"The slopist is a parasite whose selfishness and charming lack of analytical powers creates, like the skunk, an obnoxious aroma designed only to attract attention and begot the issue at stake.

"There are many types of slopists, but we refer specifically to the type which is prone to shed alligator tears and blubber weird phrases of condemnation when the shooting of game or game birds is mentioned.

"Have you ever seen a butcher kill a lamb? He walks right up to this bleating child of the sheep and calmly cuts its throat. A hog is hung up by its hind leg and its throat is cut. A steer is driven into a pen and clouted over the head with a hammer. All of this meets with the approval of the average slopist. We do not recall having seen a 'blood-thirsty' hunter tie his game to a tree so that he could bat it over the head with a hammer or cut its throat.

"The average man who enjoys a day with the gun is a mighty clean citizen who makes his kills in a thoroughly sporting way which is above the criticism of the muck-raking slopist. The hunter knows that a reasonable amount of game must be killed to prevent its becoming a pest and he further knows that this game must have a place to rest and breed or the species will become extinct. He is for hard-headed, clear-thinking, and acting in a constructive way to perpetuate sports afield and astream."

LIKED MENTION ACCORDED

IN a letter to THE DISPATCH, Roe Chase, editor of The Anoka Herald, writes: "It is needless to say that I am delighted with your very flattering mention in THE DISPATCH of January 1 of my book reviews. Such a boost coming from a paper of the standing of THE BRAINERD DISPATCH is indeed gratifying.

"I feel exactly as you do about New York made reviews and never run a line of them. My stuff has at least the merit of being home made and that of being an honest opinion."

SUMMING UP THE FARMER

ONE McC. H., writing in the Kansas City Times, sums up the farmer as the man who was to be revolutionized by the radio. And made over by state highways. And broadened by the motor car. And emancipated by machinery. And saved by daylight saving. And made rich by congress. And Mac finished with: "Please pass the Hagerstown Almanac. I am the farmer."

WHEN we lived in Chicago, it was quite an ordinary incident to see a manhole cover blow up occasionally. There is a lot of gas and hot air in the town. But Newport, R. I., the other day captured the championship in blowing off covers. Fifteen covers were blown high in the air the same moment. One cover selected a fashionable beauty parlor as its mark and the fright engendered among the patrons made all the permanent waves and resets very limp affairs, indeed.

THE Berlin-Mackay nuptials seem to have been an Abie's Irish Rose incident. It did not please the father of the pretty bride and he asserts he will not "forgive nor forget." Berlin has made a wonderful success in his career and is no poor man by any means. He has originality and business ability as a composer and publisher. The runaway marriage was a pure true love affair.

I. C. STROUT saw the Ziegfeld Follies at the Amsterdam theater in New York while visiting in the East. "Dutch" says that the "glorification of the American girl" has been swamped by the headline position accorded W. C. Fields, the comedian. Mr. Strout also saw the last lap of the Rhinelander trial and other noteworthy events.

IN perusing the work of Congress of a hundred years ago, as given out by the United Press, one sees quite a little mention of Florida. Even at that early date they were investigating the feasibility of a canal through the Dismal swamp. The Florida boosters should be given credit for their continuance of the job.

THE growth of the canning industry is epitomized in these figures on production of canned peas and corn. Peas in 1910, 4,347,000 cases; in 1920, 12,317,000 cases; in 1925, 17,816,000 cases. Corn did almost as well. In 1910, 10,063,000 cases; in 1920, 15,040,000 cases; in 1925, 24,320,000 cases.

MRS. EDNA TINNEY, wife of Frank Tinney, the blackfaced comedian, gave her mate a legal black eye when she got a judgment of $10,800 against him for attorney's fees and delinquent alimony. This is a happening that Frank won't be able to joke about.

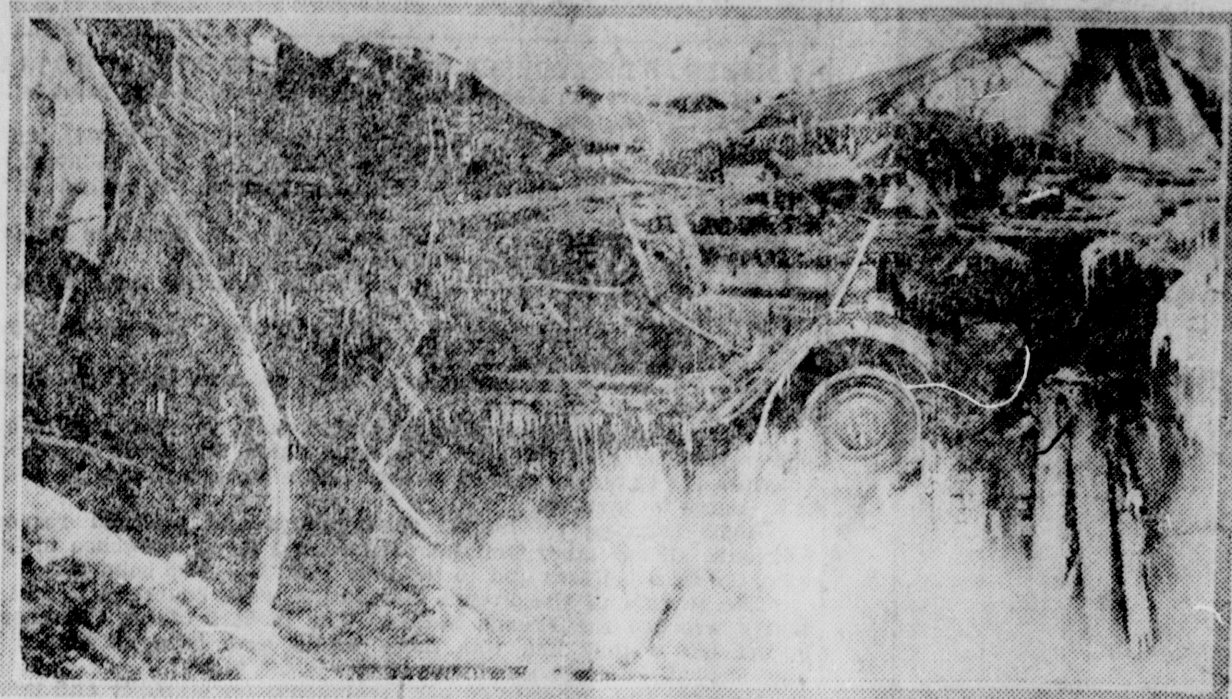

THE Finkelstein & Ruben theaters, some 80 houses, showed their wares to 18,000,000 patrons in 1925. If the films of the Elks convention at Brainerd were shown in all the F. & R. houses, one can see that Brainerd got some real publicity.

THE biggest dinner party of the year was that of George D. LaBar, who was host to practically all the bankers of Crow Wing county at the Rotary luncheon.

MRS. EVELYN NESBIT THAW, quite often in the public prints, admits attending a New Year's party and arriving home with a broken nose.

FIRE-FIGHTING IS DIFFICULT DURING CHICAGO'S COLD SNAP; SCENE OF ONE OF 108 BLAZES DAY AFTER CHRISTMAS

During the cold snap on December 26 in Chicago there were 108 fires, mostly caused by overheated stoves and furnaces. This view shows one of the buildings destroyed by fire. The extreme cold weather made the work of the firemen very difficult and dangerous. The water froze on the buildings and endangered the fire-fighters by dropping off in large cakes in the form of icicles.

Saw Nothing Pretty in Hopi Snake Dance

The only ceremonial Indian dance of which I know the date, or approximately the date, is the Hopi snake dance, which comes in August, near the last of the month. Mr. Hardman writes in Adventure Magazine, The Hopi themselves never know the exact date until near the time, as it is fixed by the time when a shadow hits a certain point on the mesa. The priests watch and when a certain shadow touches this particular spot, then they know the dance must be held a certain number of days later.

This makes it vary from year to year, by a few days.

This dance is held either at Oraibi, Hotavilla or Walpi, though at times it occurs at Shungopavi or Mishongnovi. It is the closing number of a nine-day ceremonial, which they believe brings rain. The snakes are caught and brought in after much nummery. The whole ceremony is a disgusting pagan rite, where men hold live snakes in their jaws and go dancing around the plaza. They drink an emetic of strong potency and all stand in a row and vomit violently over a cliff. Bah!

Records Show Women Had Natural Horns

The Evil One is generally supposed to be provided with horns, but it comes as a surprise to find that cases of horned men and women have been known.

A speaker at a meeting of the British association stated that the curious formation of the recently discovered Galilee skull must have given its owner, during his lifetime, almost the appearance of being horned.

Quite recent times, however, afford examples of people who went farther than this and did actually grow horns. The most remarkable case was that of a Cheshire woman, who in the sixteenth century, made quite a good living by exhibiting herself as a freak at Charing Cross. The first horn, a long, slender one, took 20 years to grow. It was then shed, and in its place came pairs, cast at irregular intervals and invariably regrown.

A more recent example was Mrs. Allen, of whom engravings made in the year 1790, showing a single horn, are still in existence.

Desert Lands

The term desert is used to include the tundras or frozen plains of the Arctic regions, the great ice wastes of the Arctic and Antarctic continents and sometimes the temporary wastes of steppes which are only covered with vegetation for a few months in the spring. The name is usually restricted, however, to the hot dried districts of the latitudes where the temperatures are extreme, the rainfall very scanty and evaporation very rapid. These hot deserts occur in two belts encircling the earth; in the northern hemisphere there stretch the great Sahara, the Libyan and Nubian deserts, the Desert of Arabia, Persia, Turkestan and Gobi, and continued in the Great Basin of North America. The southern ring, less extensive, and more broken includes the Kalahari desert in Africa, the interior of Australia, and the Atacama desert in South America.

Unlucky Interference

A high ranking army officer, vain of his prowess at billiards, challenged a lieutenant to a game. The latter was a skilled player, but for the sake of policy, decided to let the other defeat him. He wanted to make the game close, however, and kept his score even with that of the high ranking officer's. Then the lieutenant had to make a shot that would decide the game. He, of course, intended to miss, but just as he was about to shoot, another lieutenant, who feared the consequences to his friend if he should win, twitched his arm, with the result that the shot went true and the lieutenant won the game.

Hook at His Best

Theodore Hook, the brilliant but impudent English wit, one day observed a pompous man walking along the street in a very grand style. Stepping up to the magnifico, Hook took off his hat, bowed low, and asked: "I beg your pardon, sir, but are you anybody in particular?" and then, before the strutting one could sufficiently collect himself to answer, quickly made off.

The Grebe "Colortone"

hushes annoying sounds and allows notes of voice and instrument to reach you in full natural tones

IT enables you to alter to your taste the quality or timbre of speech or music from high, thin pitch to low, deep, round tones. This receiver, unlike others, is not at the mercy of the loud speaker. The "Colortone" also helps to subdue to a great degree, the scratching, hissing, whistling sounds that are usually the bane of radio reception.

The "S's" and the "H's" are plainly audible; naturalness of sound replaces the artificiality which has heretofore interfered with radio enjoyment.

Do not miss a demonstration of this great Grebe innovation.

Care of Gutters
When the tinner puts up the gutters on your house make certain that they are set in such a way that they drain in the direction in which they were intended, and that they are supported at frequent intervals.
Home builders are often disappointed because the gutters run away, but they do not stop to think that the life of this part of the roof could be prolonged by keeping it clean.

Ants' Sense of Direction
Naturalists once thought that ants returned to their home through the forests of grassblades, weeds, sticks, etc., by scent, following their own track back. As a matter of fact an ant seldom goes back over the out-bound trail, and there is considerable evidence that it relies more on the mysterious general sense of direction than on sight or any other particular sense.—Our Dumb Animals.

"I'm too busy"

A friend of mine was worn out shopping around—trying to buy a particular something-or-other.

Hours had been spent, also strength and temper—and the desired articles had not been found.

I asked if she had read the advertisements to see where it could be found—before wasting hours in fruitless search.

The answer was "No, I never have time to read advertisements. I'm too busy."

Yet, in the first paper we picked up, the article she wanted was advertised; its price and merit told; also where to get it.

Her Birthday Present

By H. IRVING KING

(Copyright.)

THE town was a New England community of about 15,000 inhabitants. The principal man in the town was Jacob Fullerton whose wealth had assumed such proportions as to cause his fellow townsmen to ask each other, "How much do you suppose old Jake is worth, anyhow?" Jacob's daughter, Madeline, was fair to look upon and, though now approaching the age of twenty-six, was still unmarried. Whereat people wondered. The answer was that she was in love with Harold Farington and her father would not hear of her marrying that young man. Harold would not hear of her marrying him, either—he was poor.

Madeline would have eloped with him; but he had a horror of being considered a fortune-hunter and, more than all, considered that he had no right to take the girl he loved from the wealth and luxury with which she was now surrounded to share his present privations.

Harold's father had been obsessed with the idea that nature had intended him for a great financier—whereas nature had intended him for no such thing. The result of this little misunderstanding was that, after divesting himself of an inherited fortune, Farington senior had died of worry and chagrin, leaving his son with an education and a profession and naught else besides. So Harold had set out to practice law in his native town. But so far the two older lawyers there had seemed sufficient for the needs of the town.

Into Harold's little office walked one day Jacob Fullerton, beaming with smiles. Harold could hardly have been more surprised had the soldiers and sailors' monument in the square casually dropped in on him. For a year Jacob's only recognition of the young lawyer had been a scowl and a nod. "Well, Harold my boy," said the man of money; "how's business?"

"Not very good, Mr. Fullerton," replied Harold; "the people of this community don't seem, as yet, to appreciate my legal ability."

"Hum," said Jacob. "Well, you can afford to wait awhile. Your father, I am sorry to say, was not a very good judge of values; but he doubtless left you some securities upon which you can realize until you get established?"

"I regret to say, sir," returned Harold, "that, as far as I can find out, none of the securities left me by my father is of the slightest value."

"Too bad, too bad," sympathized Jacob. "That sort of thing is rather in my line, you know—perhaps I might pick out some of them for which a market might be made. Well, good day. Haven't seen you at the house for a long time. Madeline was speaking of you only yesterday. Come up to dinner tonight. It's her birthday." And he went out leaving Harold in a state of pure bewilderment. What was up? Was it possible that among that assortment of financial junk stowed away in an old trunk there was something of value after all—something that Jacob wanted? Yet how could that be? Harold's dubious holdings had been pronounced worthless.

He was still wondering when the office door opened to admit another visitor—this time a stranger. The stranger looked all business and immediately proceeded to business. "Mr. Harold Farington I presume?" inquired the stranger, Harold assented. "Your father, the late Marcellus Farington," went on the unknown, "was possessed of 1,000 shares in the Valpedras Live Stock company. Arid land—Texas—unsuitable for cattle raising—attempt a failure. Well, some rich men with money to fool away—New Yorkers—think that, by expending a million or so—artificial irrigation—they may, in about twenty years from now, be able to make the property pay. At present worthless. Give you five dollars a share for your stock. What do you say?"

"Let you know tomorrow afternoon," replied Harold. And that was the best the stranger could get out of him.

As soon as the unknown had departed Harold called long-distance and talked with a former classmate of his, now in a Wall street office, asking him what he knew about Valpedras. That night after dinner Jacob took Harold into the library and broached the question of stocks and bonds.

"Before we go into that matter," said Harold, "I wish to ask you for the hand of your daughter."

"Why, why, my dear boy!" cried Jacob, "you are not in any financial condition to marry; especially with a girl brought up as my daughter has been."

"Oh, yes I am," replied Harold. "I am the owner of 1,000 shares of the Valpedras company. Oil has been discovered on the land—and I am a rich man."

"And you knew it when I was talking to you this morning," roared Jacob.

"No," replied Harold. "I learned it over the telephone about an hour later."

"Humph," said Jacob, "that stock of yours is worth half a million—perhaps a great deal more. Settle half of it on Madeline and you can have her. Madeline! Come here and get your birthday present."

Jap "Strut" Resented by Chinese People

Why the Chinese hate the Japanese so bitterly has been a puzzle to the white man. Some explanation now is offered by K. K. Kawakami, a Japanese. His views in the Independent are with evident detachment from national interest and even with some sympathy for the Chinese point of view.

The Chinese are badly treated by the foreigners who have invaded their country. They are obliged to submit to Jim Crow compartments in cars, and that in their own country. They are excluded from parks in the foreign quarters. The laborers in cotton mills are paid 40 cents a day and subjected to corporal punishment.

Whatever the expediency, Chinese workers are beaten by their foremen whether the mills are owned by British or Japanese or even by the Chinese themselves. To their Chinese masters the Chinese submit as to inevitable fate. It is a family affair. To the lordly white man unwillingly but without loss of face. He is one of the foreign devils that afflict the earth.

But in the Chinese mind, says Kawakami, the Japanese is no yang-kui—a foreign devil at all. He is chiu-kui—an imitation devil. Japan, only yesterday the pupil of ancient China in the arts and culture, now gives itself airs. It struts about. The Japanese do not ride on the Chinese side of the Jim Crow cars, but on the white man's side. He goes at will into the white man's park. He beats the Chinese worker when it is himself who should be beaten by a Chinese for being an impudent imitator of the white man.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Plan to Drain Zuider Zee

Holland has under consideration a project for draining part of the Zuider zee, the only available way in which the country can add more territory for its increasing population. Within the last 200 years the country's area has been extended by reclamation projects from 8,000 to 12,000 square miles. Zuider zee has an area of approximately 900,000 acres, and while it is not intended to reclaim all of this, it is said that about 500,000 acres could be drained and thus add that much of very fertile land to the country's area. The damming of Zuider zee, quite apart from its drainage, would result in benefit to the adjacent provinces, as the frequently occurring floods which cause enormous damage, would be a thing of the past. The estimated value of the land that would be reclaimed is $204,000,000.

A Chicago Change

The late Victor Lawson, the Chicago newspaper publisher, told one day at a luncheon a story about the changes in Chicago.

"When I was a boy," he said, "you could go into a candy store and buy a pound of good mixture for a quarter. Well, a boy the other afternoon went into Chicago's finest candy store and said:

"A quarter's worth of mixture, please."

"The salesgirl looked at him and laughed. Then she said as she handed him his quarter's worth:

"Here's two. You can mix 'em yourself."

Use Sails in Plowing

Sails were introduced as an aid to plowing in a soil tillers' match near the little seaside resort of Brightlingsea, Eng., of which many of its residents are yachtsmen as well as farmers. The wind at times aided the horses in dragging the plow along, but at other times puffs blew the implement to one side and spoiled a straight furrow, which hindered the contestant's chance of winning first prize. Women as well as men participated in the contest, which the judges decided was a great success, but thought there was little possibility of sails ever putting horses or motors out of business when it comes to plowing.

Slight Difference

"I heard tell," related Newt Strodder, "that Iry Rickadoo fell off'm the bluff yiste'd'y, and as high as I could make out from what the feller that hollered at me as I was going by, said, broke his collar button."

"Collar button?" echoed Mrs. Strodder. "Why, shucks, one of the children was just over yur and said his dad broke his collar bone."

"Huh! I thought it was durn funny that a feller would come out of Iry's house and yell at me till I got the mules drug down to a walk, just to tell me Mr. Rickadoo had broke his collar button."—Kansas City Star.

Dogs Under Soviet Ban

According to the Belgrade correspondent of the London Morning Post, the Soviet authorities at Flayansk in the province of Kuban recently decided to suppress dogs. The decree declares among other things that the dog is "one of the last vestiges of the bourgeois regime and is really of no use except to guard private property. Consequently, the dog is hereby declared the enemy of the proletariat."—From Le Petit Parisien. (Translated for the Kansas City Star.)

Want Their Own Letters

Because husbands allow important invitations to rest forgotten in pigeonholes or in coat pockets, the Athens (Ga.) Woman's club asked the postmaster to discontinue the custom of delivering letters addressed to "Mr. and Mrs." to the offices of the husbands. The women would have them delivered to the residence of "Mr. and Mrs."

REVIVAL OF CIVIL WAR IN CHINA FEARED

Washington, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Immediate revival of civil war in China is feared, American Minister John Van A. MacMurray reported to the state department today.

Inasmuch as there remains an outpost in Shantung, the danger of immediate warfare appears to exist on the Hupeh-Honan and Chihli-Shantung borders, according to the department's statement of MacMurray's advice which added that an advance by Chang Tso Lin south of the great wall seems unlikely.

Washington, Jan. 6.—(UP)—The inheritance provision of the new tax bill was assailed as unconstitutional by Sen. Fletcher, Florida democrat, in the senate today. Congress cannot pass legislation compelling states to levy estate taxes even if they do not desire it, he said.

N. Y. BOXING COMMISSION IS PUGNACIOUS

REPRISALS ON BOXERS WHO FLAUNT RULES

ACTION AGAINST MICKEY WALKER IS JUST A STARTER

AVARICIOUS BOXERS TO FEEL WEIGHT OF BOXING BOARD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Jan. 6. — Reprisals against prominent boxers who flaunt the rules or the personal wishes of the New York boxing commission are to be continued, according to a member of the board. The summary action against Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion, was equivalent to a fine of perhaps $30,000 and it is just the starter of a new plan of action the commission has decided as a treatment for avaricious boxers.

As a personal favor, the commission asked Walker to meet Tommy Milligan, the British champion, in one of the feature bouts on the Christmas fund card.

Walker demanded $30,000 and when he was told that there was a rule against guarantees the welterweight champion stubbed his toe and said he would not be able to box for any price.

Tex Rickard then matched the pair to meet Jan. 22, in the Garden, and it was understood that Walker was to get 37½ per cent of the house.

Walker spent considerable money in training and was nearly bowled over when he was told that the commission thought his toe was not in good shape and that he couldn't fight. It is probable that the commission will give him the remainder of the indoor season to get his toe in working order.

Gene Tunney and Dave Shade, two of the most prominent fighters, were also wondering today what kind of a club the commissioners were getting ready to use on them.

Shade was asked to meet Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, in an elimination bout to decide the challenger for Harry Greb, the middleweight champion, and his manager asked $25,000. The commission frowned and indicated that the Shade firm would do well to think it over.

Tunney was ordered to report at once just what he intends to do about a promise he made to meet Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, next month.

Paul Berlenbach has been ordered to give McTigue a return bout for the light heavyweight championship and Charley Rosenberg, the bantamweight champion, is on the list for consideration.

ARMY POLO ARENA ON MITCHEL FIELD

Formal Opening Planned to Take Place in 1927.

Mitchel field, where daring airmen have been shattering world's speed marks in the clouds, now makes its bid for renown as a center for ground work that retains all the spectacular thrills of air racing. The famous Long Island flying field has just been selected by the War department as the site for an elaborate and improved polo arena.

A definite movement has begun recently by Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, commanding the Second corps area at Governors Island, to rush the work to completion. Plans announced provide for continuous construction operations over a period of at least two years.

As a goal, however, the third world's military polo championship series which is to be played in this country in 1927 between the champion American army four and the British army team has been set for the formal opening of the new stadium.

A playing field rivaling the famous turfs of Meadow Brook and Rumson, both in dimensions and the playing qualities of its surface, is to be flanked, according to the plans, by a modern clubhouse with shower baths and dressing-room conveniences for a large number of players. Commodious stables already on the ground are to be further improved to afford accommodations for 80 ponies, with especially constructed watering stalls and other conditioning helps.

Actual working out of the details of the Mitchel field polo project has been delegated by General Summerall to Col. Ernest E. Haskell, distinguished for his administration of relief work in Russia, and his assistant, Capt. Adrian St. John, polo star, as polo representative of the Second corps area. Colonel Haskell plans to push the grading and planning on the field this winter so matches between army teams of the metropolitan area may be played there next season.

MILLIGAN, MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMP OF EUROPE, WHO MEETS MICKEY WALKER

Tommy Milligan, who has proved himself the best middleweight in Europe, is to meet World's Welterweight Champion Mickey Walker in a 15-round bout at the New Madison Square Garden in New York in the middle of February. This photograph was taken at his training camp at Clinton, Mass., where he was preparing for the battle.

SENATORS AND PIRATES IN CURTAIN RAISER

GIRLS' PRELIMINARY AT 7:30 TONIGHT AT H. S. GYM

MAIN GAME OF EVENING, RAINBOWS-CROSBY, AT 8 P. M.

A preliminary game between the Senators and Pirates, two girls' basketball teams of the high school, will be the curtain raiser at the high school gymnasium tonight, the game starting at 7:30 o'clock. The main game of the evening, between the Rainbows and Crosby, will begin at 8.

In a game before the holidays, the Senators beat the Pirates and the Pirates will be out for vengeance tonight.

The line-up for the big game will probably be as follows: Beresford, center; Ziebell and Dieckhaus, forwards; and Orth and Heikkinen, guards, with Hagberg and Day held in reserve as threats to be thrown into the fray if the going gets too rough for the regulars.

There is no other game here this week, as the high school team plays at Little Falls, and a big attendance is hoped for. Everybody come out and see two good games.

HELEN WILLS CONFIDENT AS SHE SAILS FOR EUROPE

New York, Jan. 6. — (UP) — Expressing confidence that she will have more success than she had on her first invasion, Helen Wills, American tennis champion, sailed today for France and England, where she will play in a number of tournaments.

"I feel that my game is much better than when I went over with the Olympic team in 1924, and I never felt better physically."

During her brief stay here, Miss Wills had her first experience on an indoor court. She was beaten in two sets 6-1 by Vincent Richards, but her game made a great impression upon the critics in the gallery.

WISCONSIN 36, MINNESOTA 24, AT MADISON

GAME WAS MINUS ANY OF THE CUSTOMARY THRILLS

MINNESOTA LARGE AND HEAVY COMPARED WITH FAST BADGERS

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6. — (UP) — The University of Wisconsin engineered a successful tilting of the Big Ten conference basketball season lid here last night when they defeated the University of Minnesota team by the comfortable score of 36 to 24.

The game was minus thrills which usually accompany any athletic contest between the Badgers and the Gophers. The large, heavy Minnesota team, offered little in exchange for the fast moving game the Badgers put up. The Gophers first snowed themselves under with a long list of free tosses given the Badgers on fouls, and themselves seemed unable to find the basket for many short shots. Capt. Rasey, Minnesota, was easily the shining light for the Gophers, while Merkle, guard and Behr, forward, bore the brunt of battle for the Badgers. Andrews, half-pint sophomore forward for the Badgers, drew his share of applause. Both teams were far from top form.

Don't Want Politicians to Select Site

Annapolis, Md. — Athletic officials at the Naval Academy intimated today they would prefer calling off the annual football game with the Army rather than have politicians interfere with the selection of the site. It was pointed out that it would take a small fortune to send the midshipmen and the team to distant points like Chicago for the game.

Find Coach Andy Smith Is Gallant in Defeat

At last, the great question has been answered. Ever since Andy Smith took up coaching at California and began to clean up the coast colleges, as well as visiting eleven from other sections, critics on the Sunny Slope have been speculating as to the manner which would chiefly characterize him in defeat.

There were those professing to know all about Smith's temperament, who proclaimed that when, at length, the Bears were slaughtered Smith would prove the hardest loser in the annals of the sport. There were others who said he would prove just as amiable in failure as in success.

Since 1919 the question has been awaiting answer because from that year until last Saturday the Blue and Gold had pushed all rivals into the Pacific ocean. It was the husky Washington eleven that forced California to bend the humble knee, and, far from proving to be a poor loser, Andy Smith forthwith established himself as a gallant and tactful loser.

THE YEAR IN TENNIS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 6. — Advancement of France to the position of the second ranking tennis nation was the bright feature of the 1925 season. The continued domination of the United States in individual play and team competition was not a feature because it has become a custom.

The United States again won the challenge round for the Davis Cup against spirited competition from the two young French stars, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra, and the Americans probably will continue to win as long as Bill Tilden and Bill Johnston are on their game and willing to play.

The French team got into the challenge round by defeating the strong Australian team, for several years the second ranking Davis Cup team. The Australians were so disappointed that they announced they might not be back for several years. They were also peeved because the tennis association would not accept an invitation to send a team of American players to Australia.

Big Bill Tilden lived up to his reputation as the world's greatest player by winning the national championship again. The tournament could have been recognized as being for the world's championship as practically every ranking player in the world was entered.

The tennis association, however, had consistently refused to consider any tournament as being for the world's championship, but Tilden is universally accepted as the world's champion.

In the men's class, the comeback of Billy Johnston, the popular Little Californian, was one of the most pleasing features of the year. Johnston had a bad season in 1924. He lost his place as a singles player on the Davis Cup team to young Vinnie Richards and his friends grieved to think that he was through.

The Little Californian set out early in the season with the announced purpose of getting his place back on the Davis Cup team and he did. He said he considered the honor of a place on the defending team as being greater than a national championship.

He played himself out in the cup matches and was not in condition for the week of hard tennis in the nationals but, at that, he played some of the greatest tennis of his career during the tournament and it was only the wizard tennis of Tilden that beat him.

Preparing for the future, when Tilden and Johnston will have to be replaced, the tennis association sent John Hennessy and Ray Casey, two youngsters, to the British championships at Wimbledon, and they made a very good showing.

The French influence at Wimbledon was pronounced as the two finalists again were the French youngsters, Lacoste and Borotra and Lacoste displaced his teammate as the champion.

Borotra, one of the few ranking tennis stars, who seems to be forced to hard work outside the court, was not in his best form as he had very little time to train or practice. He dashed over to this country during the winter and won the indoor championship and several times during the Wimbledon tournament he had to make a trip by air to Paris.

In the women's class, the big surprise of the season came when Helen Wills, the national champion, was defeated in an early tournament by Elizabeth Ryan, the former California girl, who returned to this country after having spent ten years in England.

The match was played on a court so sloppy that Miss Ryan took off her shoes and the young American champion couldn't handle the soft, chop strokes of her opponent.

Miss Wills swept through the national championship in impressive style and had very little trouble retaining her title. Mrs. Molla Mallory, the former champion, made a valiant attempt at a comeback but her best tennis days seem to have passed.

The British woman's team successfully defended the Wightman Cup at Forest Hills by winning the third match of the series from the American team. The tennis association decided at the December meeting of the executive committee to send a team to Wimbledon this year for the cup and to send two ranking men players to represent this country in the British championships.

The return to form of Mile. Suzanne Lenglen was also one of the features of the season.

SCHAEFER CERTAIN OF REGAINING BILLIARD LAURELS

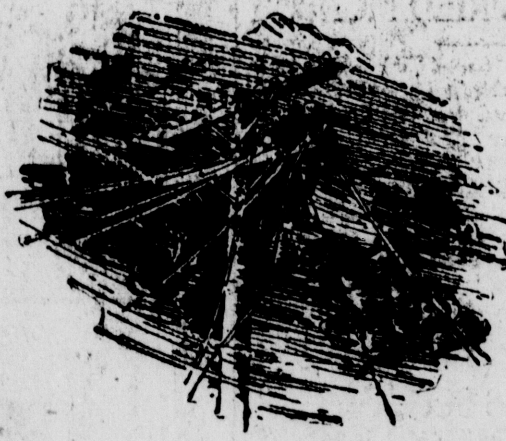

Chicago, Jan. 6. — (UP) — Young Jake Schaefer today was virtually certain of recapturing his world's billiard championship from Eduard Horemans the brilliant Belgian who won it from Schaefer only a month ago.

At the end of the second block of their three block match Schaefer had piled up the overwhelming lead of 1,000 to 572, this making it necessary for Horemans to run 928 billiards in the final block before

Schaefer runs 500. Schaefer's play during the present match has been steady but not brilliant. His average run for the first two blocks was 90 10-11. His best run was 210, made just before the end of last night's play and he went out a short time later with an unfinished run of 123. The final block is to be played this afternoon.

Switzerland in Davis Cup Challenge

New York — Switzerland has filed the first challenge for the 1926 Davis cup competition, the United States Lawn Tennis association announced. The team will play in the European zone.

The Telephone's Inheritance

IN its material equipment the telephone was born poor. The art of telephony inherited little from older branches of the art of communications that could help its technical progress toward its destiny of usefulness. There was a spiritual heritage, however, for the telephone worker was heir to the tradition that had grown with the years among those who undertook to transmit or transport the words of men.

The message must go through! Greek runner, Roman courier, King's messenger, and Pony Express rider, sped to their distant goals self-urged by a consciousness that human need was being served. At the switchboard or telegraph key, in the mail car or airplane, the manifestation of this urge is ever present.

Telephone service by its very nature inherits this Spirit of Communication. For the men and women who comprise the organization that is today responsible for the delivery of 50,000,000 messages a day, it is the endowment with which their service began.

Carl Zapffe, of Water & Light Board, Addresses Communication to School Board

TRANSFORMERS CONSIDERED

Board Opened 5 Bids on Coal and Then Rejected All of Them

The school board met Monday night with all members being present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The secretary read a communication from the auditor of the United States Veterans' Bureau asking for a refund of 16c, which was an overpayment on tuition allowed in 1924. The secretary was directed to draw an order for this amount.

A communication was read from President Carl Zapffe of the Water & Light Department mentioning certain changes in wiring and transformers that had been made at the Washington building after an inspection by him. He also suggested in his letter that the wiring in the interior of the building be looked after as undoubtedly the present wires are too small to carry the load which has been caused by the increase of fixtures added and also much larger fixtures. This matter was referred to the building committee and they are taking care of it.

The board opened five bids on a car of coal to be furnished for the Harrison building. Bids ran about $8.50 per ton with the exception of Woodhead Motor Company who bid $9. All bids were rejected by the board and the committee instructed to buy on the open market.

The committee on fuel supplies and printing was directed to advertise for bids not to exceed 75 cords of green wood for use at the various school buildings where needed. The committee was empowered to open the bids and award the contract.

The report of the health and sanitation committee which included the report of the city and school nurse for the month of December was accepted and placed on record.

The building committee was authorized to purchase a hall clock for the Harrison school building.

The secretary was authorized to draw a warrant in favor of S. R. Adair for the Teachers Insurance and Retirement fund for money retained from teachers' salaries August 1st to January 1st.

There will be a special meeting of the board some time during the month of January which will be called for the sole purpose of discussing the subject of additional high school space and try to work out a program whereby the congestion existing at the present time may be relieved. The state department is getting very uneasy about the local high school condition and the board fully realizes that it is their duty to get some definite action, but the matter of trying to formulate some plan upon which the majority of the board members can agree seems to be the stumbling block.

After allowing the usual bills, the meeting, on motion, was adjourned. The board established a new record of adjourning a few minutes after 10 o'clock.

REV. RICHARD BROWN

DIED AT LIVINGSTON

Was Former Pastor of The First Congregational Church of Brainerd

HAD PASTORATE 1902 TO 1905

Survived by His Widow, One Daughter, And Two Granddaughters

Rev. Richard Brown of Livingston, Mont., who was pastor of the First Congregational church of this city from 1902 to 1905 passed away in that city December 31st, 1925. He was survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. William Hayes of Salt Lake City and two granddaughters.

The former minister-banker passed away Thursday evening following a lingering illness from complications resulting from diabetes. A carbuncle of unusual seriousness developed as an intercurrent illness and spread from the back to the neck to a position on each side of the forehead. Because of the low vitality resulting from the furrows of the original disease, it was feared by his physicians that the well known Park county man would be unable to throw off the effects of the intercurrent trouble and this proved to be the case.

Following his period of ministry here, Rev. Brown engaged in the banking business at Clyde Park. After the closing of his financial institution which like many others fell a victim to the deflation of land values, he was named receiver and had, it is said, been making an enviable record in clearing up the affairs of the defunct institution.

The surviving members of the family were at his bedside when the death messenger came. The family home was continued in Livingston although the former minister had spent much of his time in the north end of the county.

Rev. Brown was 63 years old at the time of his death and was born in Gold, England in 1862. His father was a sea captain and Rev. Brown made his first trip to America with his father when he was 14 years old. He made his second trip at the age of 17 and it was then that he permanently established his home in this country.

Mr. Brown made five trips across the Atlantic ocean. He received most of his education in this country and was a graduate of the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Ill., from which he received his degree with the class of 1888. He later took post graduate work there and then entered the Chicago Theological Seminary which is part of Northwestern university. He was graduated from that institution in 1896. One of his trips across the Atlantic was made for the purpose of taking additional studies at Oxford college, England.

Mr. Brown married Olive Williams in 1893 at Hazelgreen, Wis. His first pastorate was at Mt. Morris, Ill., where he preached for five years. He left there and went to Dover's Grove, Ill., for three years; Palmyra, Wis., three years; Minneapolis, Minn., eight years; Brainerd, Minn., three years, and came to Livingston in May, 1905. He was pastor of the Congregational church until 1911. At that time he became cashier of the Merchant's bank, where he remained until 1913, when he organized the Citizen's State bank at Clyde Park. After the failure of the bank he became receiver and was still holding that position at the time of his death. At various times during his life, Mr. Brown was a member of Masonic bodies: Eagles, Woodmen of the World and Odd Fellows. At the time of his death the latter was the only organization in which he was active. He had filled the pulpits of the churches at Clyde Park and Walsall during the time he was in residence at Clyde Park.

MRS. EMMA FRATER

DIED IN SEATTLE

Death Comes to Her 4 Days After Distinguished Husband, Judge A. W. Frater, Died

SON NOW NAMED JUDGE

Governor Roland H. Hartley Appointed John A. Frater Upon Death of His Father

The following clipping was taken from the Seattle Daily Times of recent date:

Mrs. Emma Brooks Frater, widow of Superior Judge A. W. Frater, who died Christmas morning, passed away at 1:45 o'clock the morning of December 29, six hours after she had learned from her son, John A. Frater, that he had been appointed to succeed his father as a judge of the King County Superior Court.

Although Gov. Roland H. Hartley made the appointment last Saturday, announcement of it was withheld until after the funeral of Judge Frater, which was held at the University Congregational church yesterday afternoon. At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon services will be held in the same church for Mrs. Frater.

Son to Assume Duties

Judge John A. Frater, the son, has his judicial commission, dated December 26, and will assume his duties probably on Thursday or Friday when the associate of his father on the bench will formally install him, in stepping into the court left vacant by his father's death. Judge Frater has resigned as chief assistant United States attorney for Western Washington. Thomas P. Revelle, United States attorney, this morning named Donald G. Graham, one of his assistants, to take Judge Frater's place as chief assistant.

Mrs. Frater died in the family home, 4521 15th Ave. N. E. She had been too ill to attend the last rites for her husband at the church, but special services were held in the home for her benefit yesterday afternoon. She was 68 years old. In addition to her son, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Lewis, wife of the prosecuting attorney of Mason County. The body is at the University Undertaking Company, which also directed the services for her husband.

Pastor to Conduct Services

Funeral services for Mrs. Frater will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. H. C. Mason, pastor of the University Congregational church, who also presided at Judge Frater's services.

Mrs. Frater was born in Seneca County, O., the eldest of three children. She was married to Judge Frater while he was studying law in Mount Gilead, O., in 1881, about the time that he was making friends with the late President Warren G. Harding. She came to Washington in territorial days, settling in Tacoma in 1888, moving to Snohomish and coming to Seattle in 1898.

John A. Frater, the new judge, is about 36 years old, a war veteran, is married and lives at 6026 12th Ave. N. E. His accession to the bench fulfills an ambition which his father had for many years. The late Judge Frater was a close friend of Governor Hartley. As his health steadily failed recently, the late Judge Frater planned to resign, believing that his son would be appointed to succeed him. He was importuned and restrained from doing so, but he died assured that his wish would be granted.

Must Stand For Election

Although the term of his father would not have expired until 1928, Judge Frater will be required to stand for reelection at the general county election next fall. At that time, five other appointees of Governor Hartley—Judge Robert M. Jones, named last summer, and the four new judges to be announced

BANDITS IN SMALL TOWN CLEAN UP LOOT

ABOUT EVERY BUSINESS PLACE
IN AGAR, S. D., IS ROBBED

NO CLUE THAT WOULD LEAD TO BANDITS HAS BEEN FOUND

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 6.—(UP)—Bandits looted almost all business places in Agar, Sully county, Tuesday. It was learned here today.

Agar is a village north of Onida, in the upper county. Two safes were blown and two business establishments robbed, while residents knew nothing of the raid. About $500 in cash and a small quantity of merchandise was obtained.

Two general stores were broken into and at one place three overcoats were missing, leading to the conclusion that the bandits numbered three. The grain elevator office was broken into and the safe blown, the bandits left untouched a number of registered Liberty bonds.

At the Standard Oil station the safe was cracked and gasoline and oil stolen.

No clue that would lead to the bandits has been found.

Sherry Defeats Rogaski

Cost of Conversation

We're often told that talk is cheap; yet much depends on whether expense accounts don't get too deep when statesmen talk together.

Rash Fellow

Policeman—You say your husband died from the effects of eating a cake you baked for him? That's murder, ma'am—you must come along. Widow—No, it was suicide. He knew that I baked the cake.

Expert Opinion

The prisoner looked at the little spectacled judge with a professional eye; then sniffed contemptuously: "These things are sent to try us," he observed philosophically.

He Was Reserved

Wife (referring to guest)—He's a most attractive man; is he married? Husband—I don't know. He's a reserved chap—keeps all his troubles to himself.

That's True

NOT HEAVY

"Brown was fined several hundred dollars for giving a girl the once over while on the street in his car."
"Pretty heavy penalty, don't you think?"
"Not for running a girl down, no."

Profit Without Honor

"Just put this in," said Bonner, who's a clever sort of gent: "That a profit without honor if it's over 10 per cent."

Poor Results

"How's crops, Si?"
"Apples is small this year, with worm holes bigger'n your fist in 'em."

STOCKS STIMULATED

New York, Jan. 6.—(UP)—Stocks were stimulated today by indications that the seasonal recessions in industrial operations during the period of inventory taking was likely to be considerably shorter than usual this year due to exceptional demand for steel products and other basic materials. Evidence of extraordinary buying power resulting from the high year-end interest and dividend disbursements was afforded in the action of the general list throughout the session and the day's developments on the stock exchange added importantly to the theory that the bull market still had some distance to travel before it had discounted the nation's remarkably fortified situation.

Atchison and other standard rails were in good demand for investment account while Republic, Bethlehem, Sloss Sheffield and other important shares readily followed a brisk advance in United States Steel. The market closed irregular.

Everything I ate turned to gas and acid, making my condition worse. Medicines I tried did me no good. Then I took Sto-Li-Gal. The first box delivered great results. After completing directions No. 2 I obtained entire relief and now my stomach trouble is ended." Other reports are equally frank in telling of remarkable results: "After taking Sto-Li-Gal I was entirely relieved of over two years of terrible pains in my stomach, gas and acid. I feel like a new man. I now eat all foods, sleep well and have no constipation."—A. J. Beaumont, Kenwood St., Brainerd, Minn. "Sto-Li-Gal relieved me of gassy, acid, bloated, painful stomach condition which no other treatment could cure for two years."—M. G. Tobey, 119 W. Central Ave., St. Paul, Minn. "We have sold Sto-Li-Gal to people who tried all kinds of doctors but got relief only with this wonderful remedy. Speaking for myself, I wouldn't be without it for any amount of money, for it has cured me of serious gastric troubles."—G. W. McKnight, druggist, Velva, North Dakota. "Sto-Li-Gal gave me relief of terrible stomach pains, dizziness, constipation and other disorders, for relief of which an operation and other remedies failed. I feel duty-bound to humanity to recommend Sto-Li-Gal."—Lillian Aither, 2939 Portland Ave., Minneapolis, Minn. "Sto-Li-Gal is what these wellwishers claim. It is a reliable remedy which acts directly upon the causes of stomach and bowel disorders, promptly relieves the dangerous gases, gassy acid, painful, bloated stomach, nausea, heartburn, biliousness, constipation, etc., which are nature's indications of stomach trouble. If you are now suffering with stomach distress and pain, no matter of how long standing, don't continue to suffer when relief is possible with Sto-Li-Gal. Get it today—ask your druggist for a box treatment. If he can't supply you, then send $1.00 for a full box treatment to Digestive Chemical Co., 800 University Ave., St. Paul, Minn.—Advertisement.

Change Room's "Scenery"

Nothing is so refreshing in a room as to change its scenery. The pictures on the walls does more than anything else to give fresh interest to the room. These pictures, which are magic windows in the home, may in their varying aspects give us new fields for the imagination, and isn't it always pleasant to wander in new fields and to receive new inspiration that comes with this? So let us follow the custom of the Japanese, that nation of artists, and change the pictures that hang on our walls from time to time.
